

Andrew H Johnson

April 28, 1961 - October 7, 2017

Andrew Hugh Johnson was born on April 28, 1961 in Northampton, England. He emigrated to the United States at the age of 12 years old. He briefly attended public school which he soon out-smarted. He finished up his middle school career in attendance at Holy Trinity Catholic grade school in the Georgetown-section of Washington D.C. Andrew then attended Gonzaga College High School in Washington D.C. where he met many people that became his life-long friends. In high school, he was involved in soccer, basketball, theater, student council, and developed a love for tennis. Along with the extracurricular school activities he also enjoyed learning German, swimming, and playing the piano.

After high school, he attended James Madison University in Virginia, and then completed his undergraduate degree at the University of Maryland in Information Systems Management. Andrew eventually completed his Master's Degree in Information Technology at the University of Maryland University College where he later returned to teach information technology. His employment includes work at The Georgetown Hospital, Washington Hospital Center, and Applied Physics Laboratory. At the various places that he worked Andrew enjoyed his work colleagues whom he always made sure were treated fairly and could made them laugh in the grimmest of circumstance. He was married in 1992 and in 1996 he was blessed with his only child, Crystal, whom he loved dearly. Andrew remained close with all his siblings (Sonia Linton, Daniel Martin, Rachel Johnson, and Natalie Johnson Khan) and his nieces and nephews. Although Jeffrey and Patricia Linton were more like brother and sister than nephew and niece. Andrew was the backbone of the family – he attended every graduation, Christmas celebration, and acknowledged every birthday. He is the best friend and advisor to many. Andrew was known for his hearty laugh, sense of humor, compassion, timeless advice, trustworthiness, and honesty. He loved basketball, the Redskins, golf, his friends, his family, and most of all his beloved daughter Crystal. Andrew will be dearly missed.
