“ Keith, I know this is a trying time for you and Carol. My heart and prayers go out to you both. God saw that your mother was tired so, He called her home to rest. I know how it feels to lose your mother. That is a pain that will never seem to go away. Just lean on God in your time of need and He will never let you down. Death leaves a heartache that nothing can heal, it also leaves us memories that no one can steal. Remember the good times and those memories will help you get thru this. May this candle burn eternally for your mother.
