“ Joy,Joy,I cannot believe that I'm doing this . Seems so unreal.My heart is broken ,cuz ,I'm missing you so,so so much. I missed your infectious laughter and keen listening ears. When will I see you again? Only the Master who has a master plan knoweth all things,therefore I will not weep as those that have no hope.I know that you made it in, you've already visited me and I witnessed you running into that pathway,that heaven of rest.So,till we meet again,sleep on my darling.My best friend from childhood. God saw it fit not to heal you in the land of the living,but you're not suffering anymore. Love you.

Mommy I love you and I miss you but I take comfort in knowing that you're with the Lord. Didn't expect you to go so soon but I know you're not going to be suffering anymore. You're only son will do his best to keep going all the things you have taught him so when you, Ruthie and Andrew look down on us you will feel proud knowing that your son will be a Servant of The Most High God for the rest of his days on this earth. Your Grand children will miss Grandma and even though they are young they miss you but they understand. Rest in Heaven and praise God.

Joy, I still can't believe that you're no longer with us. Words can't express the immense grief in my heart. You will be greatly missed by the boys & I. I always thought you would be around to watch them grow up. May you watch over them from heaven now. I love you. Rest easy.

We call ourselves, the 55clicks Which include Delrose Walker Millicent Barrett Sandra oharo, Janet Fyffe ,Grace Davidson, Sharon Thomas and Mary Clark, ..we all are one big Family..Friends and .sisters all in one.. we celebrate birth dates., and I can always Guarantee my birthday and Christmas cake will be sent ...She has a way of of clamness about her, her motherly approach to all of us...We are sorority sisters ,We always vacation together ...our next trip was Ghana not sure how that will be handled.she surely will be missed. On our regular group calls not sure how we would handle not hearing and seeing her face....To know Joy is know she is a LAUGHTER...I can still hear her laughter .. rest in peace.

“ Memories of My Friend and Cousin Delrose.

I will always remember the warmth that radiated from her. She had this unique ability to make anyone feel at home in her presence. Whether it was her gentle smile or the way she always seemed to know when you needed a comforting word, her kindness was her superpower. I think back to the many times she reached out when I was going through difficult moments, offering support without even being asked.

The best moments were always the ones filled with laughter. We had inside jokes that no one else would understand, and even years later, those moments still bring a smile to my face. There was that one time when we sat in Millicent living room and laugh the evening with the rest of the “Clicks”, and we couldn't stop laughing until tears were rolling down our cheeks. I hold onto that memory so tightly because it encapsulates her joy for life.

She had a quiet strength about her. Life threw many challenges her way, but she faced them all with grace and determination. I admired how she never let obstacles define her, instead pushing forward with faith and a belief that things would get better. Whenever I feel overwhelmed by life, I think of her strength and find inspiration. From childhood mischief to adult heart-to-hearts, we experienced so much together. Whether it was road trips, family gatherings, or just spontaneous meet-ups, every moment we spent together felt special. It was one of those days where everything felt perfect, and we just enjoyed being in each other's company.

Although she is no longer physically here, her love remains. She touched so many lives with her genuine care and compassion, and that is the legacy she leaves behind. Whenever I feel sad about her absence, I remind myself that she would want us to keep living, keep laughing, and keep loving as she would. I will miss my yearly Christmas cake delivered by the mail. Not to mention the fry dumplings.

*Joy Joy one of the kindest, loveliest, most selfless person you will ever meet. You were funny, brave and always there for anyone who needed a comforting word. There is not enough paper in the world to even begin to write a tribute for you... but the Clicks have written a lot and next year this time we could still be writing.. Girl them fry dumplings was the best. Your laughter just put everyone in a great mood.. Sleep on Baby girl in the arms of our Savior.. I am so happy we had that chat.
