“ Man.. it's been over 7 years already. Degoul was a good friend of mine in boarding school. I remember the first night he arrived at school. My friend Dan and I were asked to show him around. It just so happened to be a night in October and we were all dressing up like stupid kids and playing pranks on other people. Degoul, fresh from the East Coast was cringing on the Midwest, lol. We ended up going out and getting into trouble and from there on out we were brothers. We laughed, joked, fought, argued, but damn was he competitive. Basketball, football, pool... you name it, Degoul would hustle you at everything. I have so many stories that not many people know about Degoul but he made me a stronger person. When I was upset or angry at things going on at home, when I was too far away to do anything... Degoul would verbally slap me and tell me to man up. I did. He was a brother to me, he was always there and a great friend. Also, to this day... I don't know if anyone I have ever met was as funny as that guy was. He would crack me up at my worst moments in life. I miss that. I remember that. I will never forget that. I miss you, brother.

“ DeGoul revolutionized the way to live , he was happy , positive, lived stress free and very giving of his time ...DeGoul touched people in all walks of life , he brought out the humanity in them ...perhaps it was DeGoul's love of sports , highly skilled level of competition that exhibited the sense of humanity..the triumph of the human spirit and the will to win ...DeGoul was a credit and blessing to the human race and this world ...

“ Rest in peace little cousin. Been thinking about so much. It was hard being in Maryland/DC and knowing you're actually gone. It was difficult remembering all the places that we ate at, played, and even were a little mischievous, I am glad to know you were happy and enjoyed being with family before you passed. I am sharing some of our best times through photos. I want my kids to know what its like to have a little cousin like you.

“ Degoul was my kindred spirit. We shared the same kind of creative energy. This became more apparent and visible to me in the last year of his life. We shared the love of good food and the joy of cooking, he was a foodie. I've always said anyone who truly loves dogs was an empath and that is who Degoul was. He genuenly loved kids because children were real and non judgmental. I also felt he was transient in this world because their were too many limitations for his greatness. I know now he is free. His legacy to me is to seek out freedom and creativity and remain genuine and never conform.

“ He was a big hearted person that always saw the good in others. He was a avid runner and loved dogs. He also loved his family and will be greatly misse.
