Your baby boy said it so well, to click on this page and see your face reminds us of how much we miss you. Words are not enough to express that, so we do our best. This page and this picture took some breaths away and I almost screamed. Although I daily want to scream and break things, but neither have happened yet. It happens on the inside of me at any given moment I want to punch or break something, but breaking things you wouldn't want me to do. Your example of a Virtuous, praying, loving, giving, wise, smart, bold, out spoken, funny and sharp dressing momma lives on in us all. You was loved by more than just us. You've touched the lives of countless people. Young, old, rich, poor, black, white, gangster to a chaplin. You made a difference in this world. Trust me, our hearts aches, we are out-of-this-world hurt, we grieve and mourn, but we are living our moment by moments lives off of what you taught us and what you represented. You represented GOD, prayer, love, compassion, giving, serving, teaching, advising and keeping GOD first in your life! You left a rich legacy for us, our children and our children's children and all others who love you so. It's challenging to write this, it's challenging to see your picture, everything HURTS, but the GOD of ALL Comfort, by His Holy Spirit, comforts, keeps, sustain and guides us all every moment of everyday. Thru our tears, through our questions, through our hurt, thru our what IFs, through our unanswered questions for now and thru ALL of our beautiful memories and moments with you. You were simply one of the BEST MOMs in this world!!! We are marked by your LOVE and your LIFE. You live on thru us. Well Done Mama! Well Done!! We love you so Twinkle Toes. Love, Monica Lynn
