Eugenie Alicia Morrison was born on March 5, 1924, in Jamaica, Bogwalk Saint Catherine. She had five children, Anthony, Opal, Lenworth (deceased), Donovan, and Angela (deceased). Eugenie was fondly known as “Mama Dear” to her family. She was a hard working woman. Before coming to America to live permanently, she traveled back and forth in the Caribbean Islands. She moved to the Bahamas where she set up two stores, selling straw pillows. She came to America to build a better life for herself and her family. She put herself through cosmetology school earning her senior cosmetology license. She also put herself in a nursing program. She balanced taking care of patients as a private duty nurse, while raising her grandson Nett. She enjoyed cooking and eating good food. Mama Dear loved music and dancing, and used to compete in dance competitions. She was very artistic and creative. Her favorite hobby was making herbal remedies for herself. Mama Dear loved fashion and dressing up—she was a “fancy” woman. She had a bubbly personality and always had an infectious smile on her face. She was also a very spiritual woman. She used to get up early in the mornings and do praise and workshop.
