“ Please accept my deepest condolences for your dear loved one. May the God of all tender mercies and comfort be with you, during your bereavement period. (2Cor 1:3,4) Always remember that God is a refuge and strength for us in all our distresses, especially when we lose a dear loved one.

“ "You have turned for me my mourning into dancing; you have put off my sackcloth and clothed me with gladness, to the end that my glory may sing praise to you and not be silent". Psalm 30:11-12
Janet, this text is sometimes over looked because we tend to focus so much on the familiar verse of Psalms 30:5, "Weeping may endure for a night, But joy comes in the morning".
Psalm 30:11-12 is God's promise and answer to the pain that you are now experiencing in the loss of your dear sweet Hafusatu.
The word of the Lord declares that through your tears God will heal you. Through your supplication, he will receive your prayer. Moreover, because you have found favor in His sight, He will have mercy on you and change your mourning into dancing, your sadness to gladness.
God will exalt you and lift you up above your enemies. When this happens, you will be so full of gratitude for how God has helped you that you will sing His praise forever and not keep silent! This is the blessedness of answered prayer.
