“ My dearest sympathies and condolences for your loss of love, companionship and comfort which was your husband. While I never met him, I know that he meant a great deal to you and I pray the Lord will continue to provide for you and fill your heart with the love, joy and peace He alone provides!

“ For those who die in CHRIST, to be absent from the body is to be present with the LORD. There Jerry is. He'd not want to come back for anything or anyone. Find strength in CHRIST and joy in memories that you shared with Jerry and the fact that if you are in CHRIST, you will see Jerry again in his regenerated, eternal body. May the peace of GOD be with you all.

“ Jerry you will be missed in so many ways. Sometimes we are so selfish that we just want to keep you here with us. I know you are out of all that pain, and that you are with Our Father in Heaven. Rest well big brother, will see you when I get their. Love you always Danielle remember to keep God first he will take care of the rest. Always remember I'm just a bus ride away. Love you my sister-in-law. Desiree' and family

“ Danielle, You continue to be in our prayers. Together you and Jerry made a strong couple. You two put in the hard work and dedication that God envisioned when He created marriage to be a reflection of His family. We will miss Jerry and are praying for you to be comforted because you will miss him so much more.
Love,
Anika and Herb

“ Jerry and I had such a good friendship over the years that I still remember when I first met him. I'm going to miss the nice and sometimes "long" conversations we had, talking about everything from world news, our families and many biblical topics. I will miss Jerry and our many interesting talks. I'm glad to have known his son Jay from birth and wish the best for him. I also would like to wish the best to his wife, Danielle.

“ Danielle, Although no words can really help to ease the loss you bear, just know that you are very close in every thought and prayer.
