“ Dear Grandma Joyce,

Throughout the years many family and friends have told me that I inherited many traits from you one in particular my "kobo" foot as a child. Whenever I was told this, a soft smile would come across my face. I was proud. I had inherited something so unique and so peculiar from this amazing women I called my Grandma. Although over the years my legs have now straightened, I am eager to learn what other beautiful traits I have inherited from you. You have served as a constant reminder to keep Christ in the center of my life. In times of dismay you taught me to take everything to the Lord in prayer and for that I am forever grateful. You embody strength, wit and humor and lived your life performing just that. I love you with all my heart grandma, rest in peace.

*Love,
Little Meggie*

“ Even in her old age my grandma smile and laugh could light up the room in an instant. She was sharp, fearless, funny, and most of all loving, and I will continue to miss her everyday. Wherever we went we carried her bible with us, so no matter where in the world we were, she was with us. I know she will continue to look upon me wherever she is, and guide me through life with the same steadfast wisdom and patience that she embodied.

Grandma Joyce, I love you with all of my heart and I can only thank God for allowing you to be my grandmother. Thank you for everything.

*With love and respect,
Trevor*
