“ To know that you have transitioned on to a higher space and have now been given your wings of infinity, gets us through the pain. Knowing that the most beautiful, kindest and loving Angel is watching over my niece, my great nephew and great niece comforts me because I know that you will always be helping to watch over them.

Although you were only with us for a short time, I'd like to believe that you were already an Angel sent here to help bring LJ and Alaya into this world at this particular place and time, I always tell my niece that it is something special about those babies (it is written that each generation will be wiser, smarter and stronger).

Now that you have completed your mission and journey with all who have known and loved you, it was time to part.

I can already see that your children will have your loving and kind heart, and will also have that way of making everyone laugh the way my niece says you always did. Even though I only got to be with you a few times, it was always a joy seeing that big ole goofy smile and getting a big ole hug from you with those long arms, and seeing the most breath taking art work that you did was just awesome.

I often told my niece that it was sure funny how Larry was drawn into a family of artist from her grandfather, her dad, her cousins and her little brother, seems like it was always meant to be with Larry and Krystal.

Let us not forget the loving mother that the Creator chose to raise this little Angel boy named Larry, truly you are a special woman Arlene to have been trusted with such a job, and know that you came through with flying colors girl, everybody loved your baby, excellent job mama. Well to end this I will say that LJ and Alaya truly have a big family to always make sure that they will always know, love and have the best memories of their Daddy.

We will all join as one to raise these babies.
