“ Even though I have not seen Uncle Rayboy in years, many of my fondest childhood memories include him. He was a loving man who did not hesitate to shower you with kisses to show his love, and he loved his baby sister "Honey," my mother. He was the one who taught me that "it doesn't cost you anything to be kind," and it is a lesson that I live by to this day. My greatest sympathy goes out to Aunt Geraldine, my cousins, and other family members. Just know that Uncle Leonard is in a better place. Love to you all, Jacqueline Jukes Thomson GA
