Bostic also known as GQ and Pimping Slim, was born on May 16, 1955 and peacefully passed away on Friday September 17, 2021. Michael was the oldest of six siblings. He was born in Washington D.C. to Samuel Bostic and the late Laura (Janie) Jones. Mike received his formal education through the DC Public School System. He joined the Job Corps in San Marcos, Texas and served his country honorably by enlisting into the United States Army in May of 1974. After returning from Korea, Mike had a run in with the law that landed him in Lorton. There he enhanced his culinary art skills, earned a GED, and met lifelong friends.

Mike worked for Gallaudet University as a Short Order Cook. Later in life, Mike developed a love for driving, earned his Commercial Driver's License (CDL) and went on to work for Petro. After working for Petro for 2 years, he started his own home improvement company taking immense pride in the work he did for others. Despite Mike's calling to help others, he never lost his love for driving and returned to work for the family business, C & M Home Heating Oil Company.

Mike loved life and especially enjoyed living it in the District of Columbia, surrounded by the hustle and bustle of the city life. He was known for talking trash, telling jokes and enjoyed gambling to the fullest to include betting on the Washington Redskins games.

After a brief illness, Mike peacefully received his call from God to come home to be with Him. Mike leaves to cherish his memory: Daughter Amilya, Sister Pamela Wright (Ted), Brothers Chuck Pope (Kim) and Ronica Jones. He also leaves a Second Family, Niko Estep, Gabrielle Estep, Stephanie McCluney and Latisha Richard (Derrick). Two aunts, a great aunt, two uncles and a host of Nieces, Nephews, relatives, and friends. He was preceded in death by his mother Laura (Janie) Jones, sons Jonathan Estep (Second Family) and Dawud Debruhl (Second Family), sister Loretta Jones and brother Edward L. Jones.
