“ Hello dear cousins,
I know this has been a trying time and no words in the entire English language can ease your sorrow. I just know Prissy is rejoicing with the angels and all the loved ones who have gone on before. She's up there talking up a storm! Although I didn't see her much I have many fond memories of my "no holds barred" cousin. Don't let that small frame fool you. Let me tell you if she thought it she said it. Trust me, you can best believe she meant it. During our get togethers without fail she managed to steer the conversation to my weight. I of course, would evade the topic as best I could. One particular question was, "You still love cornbread?" Anybody who knows me well already knows the answer to that question! The answer hasn't changed. Some of you reading this have also posed this exact question numerous times over the years. You know who you are. I love you anyway.

I was always happy to see my cuz. Typically these were good times i.e. picnics, reunions, etc. but sometimes somber moments due to a passing of a loved one but once everybody started telling stories and sharing memories the occasion became instantly joyous. I'm sorry I can't make the memorial due to my job. I will truly be there in spirit. Nina Patricia's season is over. She led a wonderful earthly life but she now has eternal life.

God bless the family. May you all find peace. We love you all!
