“ *Out of all the things going on in the world, I never thought I would be saying goodbye so soon. Dad, I really wished that we would have spent more time trying to build a better relationship but unfortunately, times waits for no one. My deepest condolences go out to my family who is suffering this loss with me and especially to my brother because I truly understand what he may be feeling. Now I have learned and understand never to put off what you can do today. Dad I will forever regret missing the opportunity to talk with you one more time before this tragedy, but I know you are no longer in pain and at peace. Dad I just want you to know that you will be missed and never forgotten. So until we meet again and I know we will I just want to say I love you dad....

I am so very sorry for your loss. I met Troy 46 years ago when I was 12 and he's had a special part of my heart ever since. We not only shared a son, we shared history. Whatever he was suffering in his latter years and when he passed, know that he'll suffer no more. He's at peace now and I'm happy for him. My prayers are with you and the family.
