“ What have we done, oh my god What have we done, oh my god This is really happening You never looked so bored Can you feel my fingernails? They've never been so short It's hard to lay a golden egg with everyone around It's hard to stay inside my head when words keep pouring out Like starlight crashing through the room, we'll lose our feathers Yes, I know it hurts at first but it gets better It gets better, it gets better It gets better, we'll get better It gets better, it gets better It gets better, we'll get better I can taste your summer sweat It's never been so warm So can we kick the covers off? They're always on It's never been so warm It's hard to keep a straight face when I just want to smile Wish you could see the look that's in your eyes Like starlight crashing through the room, we'll lose our feathers Yes, I know it hurts at first but it gets better It gets better, it gets better It gets better, we'll get better It gets better, it gets better It gets better, we'll get better There's a fire in sky Some snow on the ground Not quite enough cigarettes To calm me down What have we done, oh my god What have we done, oh my god It gets better, it gets better It gets better, we'll get better It gets better, it gets better It gets better, we'll get better (This is really happening) It gets better, it gets better It gets better, we'll get better (This is really happening) It gets better, it gets better It gets better, we'll get better

“ Love you with all my heart so I typed a song: And it's all alright. I guess it's all alright. I got nothing left inside of my chest, But it's all alright. Yeah, it's all alright. I guess it's all alright. I got nothing left inside of my chest, But it's all alright. And I got the call soon as the day hit night. As soon as the headlights lit up the Westside. I stopped the car and came outside Cause I know that tone. I remember the first time We wished upon parallel lines. Waiting for a friend to call And say they're still alive. I've given everyone I know A good reason to go. I was surprised you stuck around Long enough to figure out That it's all alright. I guess it's all alright. I got nothing left inside of my chest, But it's all alright. Yeah, it's all alright. I guess it's all alright. I got nothing left inside of my chest, But it's all alright. And now all my loves that come back to haunt me. My regrets and texts sent to taunt me. I never claimed to be more than a one-night stand I've given everyone I know A good reason to go. But I came back with the belief That everyone I love is gonna leave me. And it's all alright. I guess it's all alright. I got nothing left inside of my chest, But it's all alright. And it's all alright. I guess it's all alright. I got nothing left inside of my chest, But it's all all And I know, ohh nooo, You've fallen from the sun. Crashing through the clouds. I see you burning out. And I know, ohh nooo, That I put up a front But maybe, just this once, Let me keep this one. And it's all alright. I guess it's all alright. I got nothing left inside of my chest, But it's all alright. And it's all alright. I guess it's all alright. I got nothing left inside of my chest, But it's all alright. Yeah, it's all alright. I guess it's all alright. I got nothing left inside of my chest, But it's all alright. And it's all alright I guess it's all alright. I got nothing left inside of my chest, But it's all alright...

“ Please accept my heartfelt sympathies in the loss of your dear loved one. How comforting in knowing Almighty God has not only the power but also the desire to resurrect our loved ones. Jesus himself said: "Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out." John 5:28,29
