“ Pogie, This is uncle Sonny. I am so sad to know you left me. You taught me a lot about how to treat your aunt Joan. We will miss our special conversation we shared together, so much laughter. We always knew when you gathered with family, let the good times roll. You end every call with "I love you uncle Sonny" " I love you "Pogie" RIP

“ Poogie, I always called you Pookie, I never knew when I saw you and Nita a few months ago, in August and when you all visited me in North Carolina, that that would be our last time hanging out together. I miss you and love you cousin. And I am so glad we had a ball the weekend you and Nita were here! Love and miss you girl! Still in shock but I know God never makes a mistake and he has everything in his power. Rest in the peace of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Life will never be the same without you; our little Pookie Pook. Lots of hugs and kisses!

Terri Pullen - October 20, 2021 at 08:56 PM

This photo was taken the weekend of August 22, 2021, on Arnita's birthday weekend when both she and Pookie visited me in Raleigh, NC. This was also almost at the year's anniversary of my mother having gone to Heaven, Deloris Walker. A year later, right after my mother's anniversary, who knew we would be losing our Pookie this year. Let's love each other family! Forget the dumb, stupid stuff, let's love one another!

"Pogie" is what we affectionately called you every since you were a little girl. Babysitting you was always fun. Rolling you in your stroller to the neighborhood store. You were easy to love as long as I gave you sweet treats fora sweet and pretty little girl. Proud to be your "Auntie "
